GREAT BRITAIN HAS NO CASE.

Conclusion of the Venezuelan Boundary Commission.

RUMOR FROM WASHINGTON.

It Is Now Thought England Will Arbitrate Before the Commission Makes Its Report.

CHICAGO, Ill., March 18.—A special dispatch from Washington, D. C., says:

The members of the Venezuelan Boundary Commission have informally concluded that Great Britain's case is untenable, and that Venezuela's claim is a just one.

Unless some new facts come to light, this will be the nature of their decision. In the negotiations which have been going on between the Washington and London Governments, it is stated that some weeks ago Lord Salisbury showed a disposition to attempt a settlement of the Venezuelan difficulty by negotiation with the United States. He had already endeavored to make terms with Venezuela on an money basis and failed, President Crespo rejecting his proposition.

Lord Salisbury then intimated to the United States his willingness to permit the dispute to go to arbitration, so far as the boundary line is concerned, but insisted that the question of the rights of the British subjects in Venezuela belonged to the Government. The suggestion that the United States would recommend arbitration on these terms, Lord Salisbury has as yet made no acceptance, however. President Cleveland and Secretary Olney declined to recommend to Venezuela any plan of arbitration which did not include the whole subject of provide for settlement of all the points at issue. This Government replied with a suggestion that Great Britain agree to place before the arbitration tribunal the question of the rights of the British subjects, which should be against England the settlers and miners now operating under license from the British Crown would become subject to the jurisdiction of the court.

President Cleveland was firm in his insistence that if the territory rightfully belonged to Venezuela, all licensed privileges and contracts belonging to the British subjects should be given up. The suggestion that the United States would recommend arbitration on these terms, Lord Salisbury has as yet made no acceptance.

Unofficial intimations, however, have been received, that England expects ultimately to submit the question to arbitration, on the one occasion in the world, as far as the disposition of the British settlers in case the decision should be adverse to the English claim. It is also asserted that these people are a formidable obstacle, because these people have been induced to settle in the disputed territory under the impression that they were under the British flag, and not under the British crown. They are naturally disinclined to be forced to recognize Venezuelan authority.

The British case book which was so laboriously prepared by a commission of distinguished lawyers is regarded here not only as extremely weak, but as having been put together in a careless and slipshod manner.

The conclusion drawn by persons close to the President is that England will yield to the yield to the United States in the disputed districts, and that she will arbitrate the matter before the boundary commission makes its report.

SUIT ON FORGED PAPER.

The Decision Will Turn on the Innocent Holder Question.

MEMPHIS, Tenn., March 18.—Two suits hinge upon a new phase of banking filed yesterday by the First National Bank against A. K. Ward, his indorsers and the Continental and Union and Planters' Banks. Ward discounted notes at the First National Bank, indorsing them to the First, which was indorsed by himself, T. C. Toof and J. L. Welford and himself. One note was for $3,600, and President Schultz gave him a cashier's check instead of the money. Ward presented the check at the Continental and Union and Planters' Banks, which indorsed by themselves. The First National indorsed by the Continental, Toof and Welford deny their signatures, and now the First National seeks to hold the note, remitting the amount of money, having indorsed the check when presenting it for collection. A similar suit on a note for $3,600 is filed against the Union and Planters' Bank.

A Nihilistic Club Resents His Speech on Immigration.

CHICAGO, Ill., March 18.—Senator Lodge of Massachusetts was burned in effigy by the Russian Nihilistic Club last evening in a vacant lot at Seventeenth street and Ashland Avenue. The action of the club was the evidence of the intensity of feeling aroused by the recent discussion in Congress on the question of immigration. Senator Lodge was particularly annoyed by the remarks of Senator Lodge. The Police contend that Senator Lodge's statistics on the immigration question are erroneous.

Special to The Post-Dispatch.

NEW YORK, March 18.—Mrs. Catherine LeFebre, nearly 97 years old, lives in a small old frame house in New Utrecht, a suburb of Brooklyn. She came to the house four years ago, found it empty, moved in, and has lived there ever since. Now it has to be torn down to make way for improvements, but the old woman has barricaded it at every point and will admit no one. She believes she owns the place, has laid in a stock of provisions, and means to stand a long siege. Naturally so old a woman has an advantage she is slow to perceive.

CARLISLE ONLY

A STALKING HORSE.

The Real Candidate Said to Be Grover Cleveland.

THE SECRETARY A BLIND.

Intended to Draw Strength From the Southern Element Unfriendly to the Administration.

Special to The Post-Dispatch.

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 18.—Secretary Carlisle's candidacy for the Democratic Presidential nomination, which has been officially announced in connection with the promise of formal declination at the proper moment by Mr. Cleveland, is not a surprise. It has been known that the administration, knowing that Josiah Quincy's Quay boom was a flat failure, would put Carlisle forward as a Southern man with Eastern ideas, who had once been for silver, but who is now in sympathy with Cleveland's financial views.

A cynical view of the Carlisle bid for Democratic support was expressed to-day by a Democratic Senator only recently high in the councils of his party, and who would not permit himself to be quoted by name. He said:

"Carlisle is being used by Cleveland to draw the fire of those opposed to his administration, and, when the gullible Secretary is shot to pieces by the free silver men and the gold bugs, Cleveland will step forward as the only man left to save the Democracy from extinction. He will then permit himself to run for a third term as a patriotic sacrifice to uphold what he terms the principles of his party."

LOUD AND LONG PROTESTS.

Politicians Object to the President's Civil Service Enlargement Idea.

Special to The Post-Dispatch.

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 18.—No recent action of President Cleveland has caused so much excitement as the announcement of his announced intention of enlarging the civil service under his administration. The confirmation of the Senate. The active politicians are objecting to this, as they take away the strident incentive to work in the party ranks, as it removes the question of patronage almost entirely.

It was agreed last night that the President and the matter under advisement, but the Democratic politicians thought they had assurances that the practical politicians in the Cabinet were opposed to the proposal. The Republicans were relying on the Democrats to block the scheme. Now that it is assured that the President intends to carry out his original idea of increasing the civil service, the politicians are protesting from the campaign curriculum on and on are the protests. They will do no good, however, for the President's mind is made up.

About 400 appointments in Washington will be affected by the proposed change.

SALES AT THE SHOW.

Several Local Fanciers Secure Some Valuable Canines.

Several local fanciers have found what they want at the show and as a result: a number of important sales have taken place. Harry Drummond, the tobacco millionairess's son, has a fondness for Yorkshires and secured two prize winners from Mrs.
William Hutchison for $50. L. Heineman of St. Louis is figuring on purchasing the St.
Bernard. Safford, from the Ashland Kennels.
John G. McNair bought one of the prime-winning pointers last night. Secretary Hutchison sold $125 worth of tickets on the steps. The raffle has exceeded the most sanguine expectations and the unquestioned success of the association.

Murray Mitchell of Philadelphia has reported the loss of his valuable English setter bitch, Bella of Riverview. She was lost or stolen last night.

John D. Murray of Piermont Morgan's valuable colles is sick on the car at the Union Station. This is the dog that was brought to Sam Stannard's last day.

The Newfoundland Decision.

To the Editor of The Post-Dispatch.

It was with a great deal of interest I attended the dog show yesterday and watched for hours the experience and ability shown by the various breeds.

Those of the big dogs who had not been brought to the show were not up to par.

When their owners visited them they pleaded pitifully to be let out and the kind heart broke when they realized that they had to stick to their narrow quarters.

One big fellow, owned by a St. Louis woman, was not brought to the show because he had a nervous disposition.

Having raised Newfoundland dogs a number of years ago, and being very much interested in the breed, I took occasion to inquire about them. Two dogs entered by the local exhibitor were not awarded a premium, and was told that it was because of the fact that those entered by the Omaha exhibitor had longer wavy hair while the hair of those shown by the local exhibitor was short and curly, and for this reason it was supposed that the latter were not full blood Newfoundlands.

If this is the point of view of the exhibitor in my judgment she was clearly in error.

No one can read the history of the Newfoundland dogs and become familiar with their characteristics, and not know that there are two classes of Newfoundlands, just as there are two classes of St. Bernards. In the latter we have the straight-haired and the curly-haired Newfoundland.

In just as reasonable to rule out the short-haired St. Bernard as an open class as it is to rule out the curly-haired Newfoundland.

Miss Whitney predicated her judgment of the dogs upon the fact that one breed had wavy hair and the other had curly hair.

Every standard authority I have ever read upon dogs, commencing with the Encyclopedic Encyclopedia of Dogs, and every day, speaks of the Newfoundland as having wavy or curly hair, and I have a very distinct recollection that years ago when I was a boy, my father, after getting from his explorations, and was lecturing throughout the country, he brought with him a Newfoundland dog, and throughout his tour he had a Newfoundland dog, and every one of them had short curly hair.

The dogs offered by the local exhibitor were commented upon as two of the most handsome and of the best kind that had been seen for a long time, and a local newspaper says that Miss Whitney herself remarked that they were two of the finest specimens ever seen.

This breed of dogs is almost perfect, and therefore every encouragement ought to be offered to those who still think it is not a good idea to breed them, and therefore present specimens which can enter into competition in such a meet as we are now having in this city and which will be of great service to the country and the exhibitors as well.

While the St. Bernard is much the larger of the two, the Newfoundland is by far the more graceful and intelligent of the two. For this reason every encouragement should be given to those people who are breeding them and preserving the breed.

If the curly-haired dogs are to be left out of such contests, then it is useless to breed them at all.

It is a great pity that the two specimens, it will soon become extinct.

BIG GAME PLAYED BY THE POWERS.

European Rulers Keep Each Other Guessing.

FRANCE TAKES A HAND.

Conflicting Reports Concerning Great Britain's True Relations With Germany.

PARIS, March 18.—The Government and people of France are beginning to realize that the recent conferences at Berlin between the Austrian Minister for Foreign Affairs, Count Gelschewski, the Italian Ambassador, at Berlin, Count Lanza di Bucce, and the Imperial Chancellor, Prince Hohenlohe, under the auspices of Emperor William of Germany, with Great Britain a party to the understandings arrived at, had more significance than was generally admitted by the press or public opinion. The arrangement of the Dreibund with Great Britain as an active instead of a silent partner was evidently only the first step in the direction of attempting to make the Austro-Hungarian Empire, after the conservative support of the Dreibund, thus looking upon as being the price agreed upon with Great Britain for the latter's support of Italy and incidentally of the Dreibund.

But behind the scenery so carefully arranged at Berlin there is a belief by the Government and people of France that nothing going on regarding which explanations must be promptly furnished by Great Britain or French trouble may follow, in fact, if the Tonkin correspondence of the 1st of this morning, to be believed, matters have already reached such a dangerous stage that orders are expected there at any moment to be given to the British Squadron to proceed to Egyptian waters.

OWL CAR RIDER TURNS UP.

Sharp's Supposed Assailant Known to the Police.

WALTER GRAHAM, Sharp's son, who was so mysteriously shot on Lincoln Avenue Sunday morning, is greatly improved, but his condition is still serious. His naturally strong constitution is much in his favor.

The name of his assailant is unknown, and the police have no clew to his identity. The smooth-faced man who was seen on board the Owl street car about the time of the shooting has been located. He was half-shooted, and the fact that Sharp was still alive, and low, left him the scuffle gave room for the belief that the man on the street car might be the person wanted.

When he learned that he was suspected he fled to the Curtis and related his experience to Chief Desmond, who positively declines to reveal the name. However he is said to be a prominent member of the bar of West End.

He was out with some friends Sunday night and imbibed more intoxicants than he could carry. Finally he wandered up to the corner. When he awoke he caught the owl car that leaves Fourth street at 3 o'clock, slept to sleep, and kept on riding until the conductor suggested that he would better get off.

Chief Desmond says that the man is a notorious citizen, and although he does not consider it honorable to mention his name, members of the detective force who have worked on the case are confident the Sharp knows who his assailant was and is purposely withholding his name. They believe it was a drunken fit, and the question remains.

Who is "H. B." and who owns the hat that was picked up at the mouth of the alley?

Miss Bege, Sharp's mother, said Wednesday morning that she had received more letters of inquiry and flowers than she could answer or acknowledge and that no absolute assistance was offered her in caring for her son.

LOOKING FOR GRAULICH.

Suite Recall the Mysterious Robbery of an Express Package.

One of Sheriff Troll's deputies has been searching since Tuesday for Augustus F. Graulich, an ex-messenger of the American Express Co.

Wednesday officers of the St. Louis Safe Deposit and Savings Bank were served with a subpoena to testify that from Graulich he had taken, if he did not follow precedent in transmitting his objections through the French Embassy in London.

The Times says: "Great Britain's attitude is a breach of faith. The Marquis of Lansdowne has now come to the conclusion that he wished through the action of Baron Cromer (the British Diplomatic Agent in Egypt), who by sending a small force up the Nile, will involve the country in a war which does not sufficiently respect French interests. Egypt, and she has many reasons to object to the proposed alliance, has a great adventure which she considers of value and which is disquieting the European chancellors."

The Times adds: "In refusing to allow the Egyptian funds to be expended on an expedition by which England alone would benefit, France has placed the latter country in an awkward position and one from which she cannot escape."

On the arrival of the last mentioned question, however, came an answer from the Non-German Government, saying that the Non-German Gazette announces that Great Britain has asked the Powers sharing in the control of the Egyptian Government to allow him to do what he can to restrain the Dreibund.

It is asserted that these agents are again discussing the affairs of that country, and are being met by the French, who have, in spite of the recent conferences at Berlin, exchanged their sympathies with the belief that the struggle between the Dreibund and Great Britain, growing out of the Tonkin incident, was so deeply rooted that there was a probability of an alliance between France and some other nation, including Great Britain, particularly in regard to the latter's colonial policy in Africa.

There is, however, another feature in the game being played between the Powers at the present moment. Advises received here from Rome to day say that French agents are active in intriguing there in effect to do the same thing as the Dreibund. It is asserted that these agents have spent a great deal of money in order to bring about the overthrow of Sino-Centralists.

"I don't know of any dissatisfaction among the stockholders," said he, "but we are moving to run the company as economically as possible. The elevator is not making money. The stockholders are not getting any return for their investment."

"I don't know of any dissatisfaction among the stockholders," said he, "but we are moving to run the company as economically as possible. The elevator is not making money. The stockholders are not getting any return for their investment."

The elevator will be closed in front and rear by glass windows somewhat after the fashion of the summer houses on the Union Electric Line. The sides will be open.

The gripman will thus be protected from storms. The grip will be made of wood of those used on the Union Electric Line.

Car No. 1 will be controlled by a wheel exactly like the pilot wheel of a steamboat. The modification of the grip was made to permit the gripman to enter the tunnel at Eighth and Olive streets, and for that reason new castings were needed.

The gripman will be twenty-eight feet long and will seat twenty-eight persons. They will be handsomely finished and will have the regulation cross cane seats made in over $5,000 a year over the past three years.

The method of lighting the car will be that used in illuminating the Wagner sleeping cars. It is what is known as the Pintsch system, and is a gas lamp suspended by the Lacide Co. and stored near the Union Station. It will be piped from that tank to receivers at the Olive street carhouse and into the trailers and top of the grip cars will be stored under a pressure of ten atmospheres. The light which has never before been used for grip cars is said to give a soft, ready, yet brilliant light, sufficient for reading. The car tanks must be refilled every other day.

He was cured long ago, and writes under date of 1888:

THIRTY POUNDS HEAVIER NOW.

SIGEL, Ill., September 22, 1888.
Gentlemen—I write you a note in praise of No-To-Bac, which I took nearly three years ago. I had the habit of smoking tobacco nearly every day, and it required a pound every ten days. It so affected my nervous system that I could not sleep, had no appetite and was unable to eat. On January 1st, 1888, I commenced the use of No-To-Bac and gained fifteen pounds the first month. No-To-Bac entirely destroyed my desire for tobacco, and I have not had a cigarette since. I am now thirty pounds heavier than when I used tobacco, and I would like to say to every one who uses tobacco, "Take No-To-Bac and be yourself again." Very respectfully yours,

Are you a sufferer from disease that you long to cure, and at the same time using tobacco? No-To-Bac is sold by your own druggist, and is the most economical way to stop your new manhood to-day. Get on booklet "Don't Tobacco Spit and Smoke Your Life Away." Written guarantees of cure and free sample mailed for the asking. Address The Sterling Remedy Co., Chicago or New York.

ST. JOSEPH, Mo., March 18.—The efforts of the Municipal League to stop Sunday baseball promises to bring in earnest the war that was started in the fall. The members are twice as numerous as the baseball fans, and the requirement should make it the fastest in the country. The emblem of the club will be the figure 23 white on the cap, 23 on the jersey, 23 on the pants, and 23 on the winners of the Century Cyclists Club road race. Among the members already enrolled in the new organization are "Dude" Cabaniss and the five Coburn boys. Ed. Gandy, Billie, Jimmie, Eddie, and Eddie Harding. Alex Laing and one or two others are about the only local riders eligible to the club. The new organization will, no doubt, make a name for itself in local road racing.

The Forest Park Road Race Association held a meeting Monday night and decided to issue entry blanks for April. The association voted to reject any entry if the rider is eligible as far as qualifications are concerned.

Leading Physicians of St. Louis Failed Where the Specialists of the REKLAW ACADEMY Effect a Speedy Cure.

Unimpeachable testimony of well-known St. Louisans of the incomparable skill and ability of the Reklaw physicians:

Mr. E. O. Bartholomew, in the real estate business, living at 4200 Magnolia avenue, St. Louis, suffered for twelve years from an aggravated form of nervousness. His sufferings he describes as "unbearable." He was compelled to give up his law office, and became so helpless as to have to use two canes to get along. Quite a number of the leading physicians of the city treated Mr. Bartholomew, but without success, their efforts deriving no material benefit. Mr. Bartholomew, who supports his statement with an affidavit, continues as follows:

"As a last resort I was induced to try the specialists of the Reklaw Academy, and the result has been wonderful. The first time since the trouble commenced, twelve years ago, I am at ease my pains have left, my nerves are strong again, and I am once more in full possession of my energies."

WE CURE SCIATIC RHEUMATISM.

Mr. E. J. Dunn, collector and collector for C. H. Ames, 18 North Third street, St. Louis, makes affidavit to the following:

"I have treated many cases of Sciatic Rheumatism since last summer. It has always been painful, but at times it caused me much pain as to unfit me for my duties. Three weeks' Reklaw treatment, however, has entirely removed the disease, and I am now stronger, more active, and more cheerful than ever before."

"I shall only be too happy to substantiate this statement in person at my home to any one who may call on me."

The Reklaw Academy has a permanent cure for sciatica, low backache, rheumatism, etc.

VERY SICK MAN.

John Havlin Is Here on Account of Garen's Illness.

John H. Havlin, the well known theatrical manager of Cincinnati, arrived here Tuesday night to look after the Havlin's. Theater during Manager William Garen's illness.

Mr. Havlin found the manager much worse than he had been for several days. There was a change in his condition for the better yesterday morning. Mr. Garen is critically ill, with very high fever and typhoid pneumonia has developed. The relapse is largely due to Mr. Garen's attempts to transact the business of his theater when rest was imperative.

LOVED HIS DOG.

But Epstein's Ardent Affection Lands
Him in Jail.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

NEW YORK, March 18.—Paul Epstein is in jail charged with embezzeling funds from his employer. It transpires that he had stolen $1,000 from his dog, Chief Junior, one of the finest St. Bernard dogs in the country, which he seemed to think more of than he did of his wife and baby. To get back the dog he had to bribe the bill of lading company with which to do so. Now he is in jail and the dog is liable to be sold to a stranger.

Excitement in Cairo.

LONDON, March 18.—A dispatch to the Globe from Cairo says the statement of Mr. George N. Curzon in the House of Commons concerning the activity of the Dervishes in and about Egypt and the danger with which Egypt is threatened has caused a sensation there, and in the opinion of the authorities more British troops are urgently required in Egypt.

WIT AND WINE FOR ST. PATRICK.

Ireland's Patron Saint Honored

BANQUET AT THE PLANTERS'

Archbishop Kain, Gov. Stone and Ex-Gov. Morrison of New Mexico the Guests of Honor.

Oratory, music and song gladdened the festive board of the Knights of St. Patrick at their thirtieth annual celebration of Ireland's national holiday.

Two hundred gentlemen, prominent in every walk of life, sat down to a bountiful spread in the private dining hall of the Planters' Hotel. Before the banqueting the honored guests, Archbishop Kain, Gov. Stone and Ex-Gov. A. E. Morrison of Santa Fe, were seated at the head of the table. The banquet hall. There the guests gathered, met the distinguished visitors, and at 9 o'clock were formed in line by the marble pillars and the chandeliers and through the festooning of flags and banners on the walls.

Shortly after 9 o'clock "The Wearing of the Green" was heard and a hundred voices.

Major Lawrence Hartigan, escorting Archbishop Kain, entered the dining hall and walked to the center of the table. His speech was received with a round of applause, and Frank escorting Gov. Stone. When the guests were seated an elegant repast was served.

Frank's father has plenty of money, but as the young fellow is a wild spring and won't work regularly, the old man limits his allowance.

But "Love will find a way." Frank secured a horse and buggy from his father's stable and drove to the house of his sweetheart on North Second street. There they went to the West End stable on Vandeventer avenue and borrowed money enough to get the marriage license.

Before high tide the license was obtained. The bride and groom had a reception.

But they were nearly nipped in the bud by a rowdy.

NEED NOT BREAK DOWN.

Many Men and Women Do When It Is Easy.

"It is almost impossible to find persons in the ordinary walks of active life who are not suffering more or less from want of vital force."

It was a learned professor connected with a New York medical college who recently made this remark. "Men break down under the strains of high pressure living," he continued; "they overwork the brain and neglect the body. They exercise no part of the body except the head, and consequently suffer from indigestion, palpitation of the heart, weak nerves and other ills that make life a burden."

That the above words are absolutely true is readily demonstrated by the number of men who have broken through overwork and too close attention to business. They overtax the nervous system, they strain their physical frame to the point of exhaustion, and have no time to give to the light. This was exactly what happened in the case of Selden Fish, the well-known lawyer, who, in his last will, left the following statement which he recently made: "I was not diseased," said Mr. Fish, "but simply prostrated at my nerves overcame me." He died at the age of 45. By the use of Duffy's pure malt whiskey, however, I was completely restored to health. I think that the secret of my success is that I never let myself go for all most any weakening or wasting disease."

Thousands of people have passed through the saloons of St. Louis, and the only way to get out is health is by the use of a pure malt whiskey. The best and most effective thing for this purpose is Duffy's pure malt whiskey, which is unequalled for its great restorative power. It is the only spirit that can be used to work its wonderful curative effects. Do not let your druggist or grocer attempt to sell you anything that is claimed to be "cheaper" or "just as good."

ZELAYA'S VICTORIES.

City of Metapa Falls With a Loss of 1,000 Men.

MANAGUA, Nicaragua, March 18.—The City of Metapa has been taken by storm by Zelaya's army after two days of hard fighting. The capture was attended with terrible slaughter, news from the scene placing the number of killed and wounded as high as 1,000 men.

Metapa is situated in the midst of high mountains, not far from the frontier of Honduras. It was captured after the hold of the rebels, and was relieved upon by the insurgents to fall back upon as a last resort.

The town of Mora also succumbed to Zelaya's arms with heavy rebel losses. The troops supplied by the President of Honduras to assist President Zelaya have already outflanked Viejo City, North of Leon, and are proceeding southward.

The Doctor Pronounced Not Guilty of Immoral Conduct, and the Un-ministerial Charge Modified.

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., March 18.—The Congregational Council has declared Rev. C. O. Brown not guilty of immorality, but has censured him for his unministerial conduct. As the council apologizes to the doctor, Dr. Brown considers his vindication complete. Dr. Brown's explanation of the payment of $600 to Mrs. Davidson is regarded as weak, and Miss Overman's strange story of love and blackmail, has given passing mention. The council will have been investigating the charges against Dr. Brown for the past month late last night made public its report. After reciting the reason for the calling of the council, the report says:

We have reached the following conclusions:

That all the charges in our judgment may be grouped under the two questions: Did Rev. C. O. Brown commit adultery with Mrs. M. A. Stoner? and, Did Rev. C. O. Brown commit an unministerial charge seriously affecting his unministerial character?

That touching the first of these two questions we are able to make answer that the evidence before us does not sustain the charge of adultery with either Mrs. Stockdale or Mrs. Stoner.

That touching the question of unministerial conduct we find in Dr. Brown certain constitutional infirmities of temperament which must be judged in which the unministerial charge is concerned, and which to some extent modify our opinion of his conduct so that in one case where the use of harsh and intimidating language is charged against him an apology follows so quickly that we do not further notice it.

In another case, while the menacing and intimidating language used was not justified it was the speech of an angry man, but in the case of a young lady of the purest character and the highest worth who was charged with having been unkind to her because she had opposed the pastor, we find his conduct to have violated all rules which should control the actions of a person and requested that sufficient money be paid to his farm be forwarded to him. No attention was paid to the letter, but Budgenon himself appeared in West Orange yesterday.

We should like to add to this verdict that the various facts in the case so far as we have concerned have not left a trace of suspicion in our minds concerning the hitherto stainless reputation of this young member of the gospel. But we are reluctantly compelled to confess that Dr. Brown's example of conduct in this case is not creditable to him.

In another case, while the child inculcating elements of this case have been impaired seriously by confessed falsehood previously told concerning the same matter, while a full confession of the same matter, dated Oct. 1, 1888, was made payable to the complainant on the payment to Mrs. Davidson of the sum of $600 and agreeing to pay the further sum of $35 per month for a series of years, all for the purpose of silencing the silence of a sensitive soul. Mrs. Badding, who was not satisfied with this, and that Miss Overman's testimony as to having changed certain letters known to the general public, has given rise to the child inculcating elements of this case, has been impaired seriously by confessed falsehood previously told concerning the same matter, while a full confession of the same matter, dated Oct. 1, 1888, was made payable to the complainant on the payment to Mrs. Davidson of the sum of $600 and agreeing to pay the further sum of $35 per month for a series of years, all for the purpose of silencing the silence of a sensitive soul.
